GC office of attorney general authorized by House, Senate

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Establishment in Granite City of a regional office of the Illinois Office of Attorney General is seen locally as one of the high points of the state legislative session that ended early this week.

State Representative Sam Wolf told the Press-Record Tuesday that a $229,000 appropriation to operate the new office for two years was included in legislation adopted by the House and Senate and forwarded to Governor James R. Thompson.

GOAL OF ATTORNEY GEN. Neil Hartigan is to improve varied state legal services and counseling to residents of this region, Rep. Wolf said.

Although Gov. Thompson has not commented specifically on the plan, no problem is foreseen because it is part of the overall budget of the attorney general, Wolf added.

Also approved by senators and representatives is the Granite City legislator's bill intended to improve the efficiency of the Metro East Sanitary District.

IT WOULD REMOVE the requirement that only an engineer can serve in the top MESD administrative position, and it would empower the district to sell unneeded land, among other provisions. Wolf said ability to sell property is important to help keep the district's costs and responsibilities within reasonable limits.

Another element of the legislation is the establishment of annual salaries for MESD board members, pegging them at the lesser amount of the two MESD counties (Madison and St. Clair) yearly pay to members of the county boards. The lower figure at present is $5,500 paid to those on the Madison County Board.

PER-MEETING pay to sanitary district commissioners has been criticized in recent years because it has tended to prompt scheduling of numerous board meetings, often nine or ten a month. There is no need for the board to meet so often, Rep. Wolf commented.

Another Wolf initiative approved by the Illinois House and Senate provides $300,000 for repair of underground sewer breaks in Granite City.

It is in an amendment to a House bill funding the Capital Development Board.

WOLF PRAISED Rep. Michael Slape for effective work in obtaining passage of a bill to establish a convention center in Collinsville.

Gov. Thompson on Tuesday signed legislation authorizing Collinsville to begin planning for a $5 million convention center. Under its terms, the city will compete for part of a $4.5 million allocation to assist such centers.

Collinsville is completing a feasibility study and preliminary design and will submit a financial application this summer to the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs.

Park is polling residents about future of pool

The Granite City Park Board is requesting park district residents to complete the public opinion poll form on this page with their comments on alternatives facing the park district concerning the Wilson Park Swimming Pool and its repairs.

Many of the forms were distributed during the Fourth of July celebration on the park grounds and those who did not have the opportunity to complete a form and offer their opinion on solutions to the problem are being asked to send the form in today's Press-Record to the Wilson Park office, Benton Street and Oregon Avenue.

THE PARK commissioners would like to have as many opinions as possible in time to be tabulated before a public hearing set for Monday, July 9, at the Harold Brown Recreation Center to convene at 7 p.m.

A third public hearing focusing on the pool problem, will be conducted at the Lincoln Place Community Center on Tuesday, July 10, at 7 p.m. The present swimming pool is 44 years old and it has undergone major repairs this year at a cost of $20,000 to $25,000 without any guarantee of staying open for the season. This cost is in addition to the normal annual operating budget for the pool, which is approximately $45,000.

DUE TO THIS, other programs and areas must be left with bare minimum in financing to operate, a spokesman said.

A fully renovated pool has been estimated to cost $1 million and a new pool would cost $1.3 million.

The park board realizes that the pool cannot continue to operate for long as is, but wishes the public to consider all the alternatives open to it before making a final decision.

THE PARK BOARD'S intention is to assure the public of having available a low admission, safe and efficient pool. Over a 10-year period, the cost of a renovated or new pool, financed by general obligation bonds, would be an additional nine cents per $100 assessment on each property owner's tax bill.

The average home in Granite City is assessed at $17,000 (one third of a market value of a $51,000 home) and this would mean an additional $15 per year tax for 10 years to repay the bonds, the spokesman noted.

THE FORM for park district residents to complete appears here. It is not necessary to include names and addresses on the form. "The park board is interested in the public's feelings on this issue and would like to thank everyone who takes the time to let us know how they feel," the spokesman concluded.

Fireworks Friday

Because of the steady rains that fell on the Quad-City area last night, the Granite City Park District has rescheduled its annual fireworks display for Friday at 9 p.m.

"I called the National Weather Service in St. Louis shortly before 8 p.m. (yesterday) and they said the thunderstorms in the metropolitan area would remain throughout the night, so I made the decision to postpone the fireworks display," Director of Parks and Recreation David Nolan said this morning.

Nolan said he didn't want to risk having the fireworks, especially the ground displays, ruined by the rain.

"Ground displays this year include the traditional Niagara Falls, French fountain, the Devil's Wheel, Snoopy lighting a huge firecracker, a Smurf display and, of course, the American Flag," Nolan said. All of the ground displays will be set up at Diamond Seven in Wilson Park.

Commenting on the five-day Fourth of July Festival, Nolan said, "We had a very good crowd, as we usually do." He said he knew of no arrests in the park during the five days nor of any other problems during the festival.

The crowd for the five-day event has been estimated at about 26,000.

"We even had a normal size crowd Wednesday, despite the rain," Nolan said. He did say the carnival closed about 15 to 20 minutes prior to the scheduled 11 p.m. closing time Wednesday because the rain continued and no one was riding any of the carnival rides.

Arbitration for GC firemen and workers

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

On a 9 to 4 vote Tuesday night, the Granite City Council passed a resolution that places the city in binding arbitration with the city employees' and firefighters' unions. The arbitration will decide wages and conditions of employment for the two worker groups.

City Attorney John Papa said that, although arbitration is not an unusual way to answer disputes, this is the first time, to his knowledge, that the city has entered into such an agreement. He said that the arbitration is not due to a default by the city on its contract with the workers.

THE ARBITRATOR the city has hired is Dr. Gladys Gruenberg of St.

Louis. Papa describes Dr. Gruenberg as a woman in her early 50s, who has been an economics and labor relations professor at St. Louis University for the past 35 years. He said that she is very experienced as an arbitrator.

According to the resolution, the city will pay one-half of the fees, charges and expenses incurred by Dr. Gruenberg. Papa said that the arbitrator will charge a fee of approximately $125 an hour.

The arbitration will begin on July 23, and will continue daily until all evidence is heard. Dr. Gruenberg's decision is to be final and binding on all parties involved.

DESPITE the passage of the resolution, four aldermen spoke out against the move.

Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman said he thinks that the dispute between the parties could be settled by a mediator. In a mediator situation, the middle man, although impartial to both parties, would only act as a "referee" during negotiations. "I think this (binding arbitration) will be an abrogation of the city's powers," he contended.

Alderman Jake Varadian said he also opposes arbitration. "Last year, we put a salary increase in the budget, but then we became over-budgeted, so we took it out," he said.

Varadian said he feels the city still cannot afford to give pay raises.

ALDERMAN PHILLIP Miller

said that he also would not vote in favor of the arbitration because he has voted against it in the past. "I couldn't, with a clear conscience, vote yes now," he said.

The only other dissenting vote came from Alderman Sam Whitmer who said he feels the council "is making one bad mistake" by approving the resolution.

Council Member Casmer Skubish said he is skeptical about arbitration but he feels the city's financial situation will be an issue and a good defense for the city.

ALDERMAN PAUL Fisk said he also feels that mediation would be the best method. "But by mediation, we're assuming that the city has

Sisters mark 60-year jubilees

By STEVE WHITWORTH

Six sisters of the Order of Divine Providence are observing jubilees this summer, including sisters from St. Elizabeth Medical Center, two of whom are celebrating their diamond jubilee (60th anniversary) in the order.

Sister Marce (Musick) and Sister Theodore (Uekman) have been a part of SEMC's growth since the first half of this century.

THEY JOINED the order in 1924, serving as novices in Pittsburgh. Sister Theodore first came to SEMC as a nursing student in 1928 and Sister Marce joined the hospital in 1947.

Sister Marce first encountered the sisters of the order when some of them taught at her school, St. Mark's in Venice. She recalls taking the train from Venice to Pittsburgh, where she attended high school and entered the order.

She taught in various capacities for 20 years, including 11 years in Madison and two years in Brussels, Ill. She then returned to school and received her degree in nursing from St. Louis University.

"I WANTED to go into nursing from the beginning, but in those days you went where they put you," she said. "That's how I got into teaching."

Sister Marce was one of three daughters born to Joseph and Katherine Musick of St. Louis. Her sister became Sister Mary Linus (Musick) of the Order of Divine Providence.

Of her other sister, Dorothy, Sister Marce said, "Dorothy wanted to go into the order, but we were advised by one of the priests that one of us should stay home with our parents." Dorothy is now married and living in Madison; she has seven children and many grandchildren.

SISTER MARCE said she enjoyed working in all areas of nursing, especially in surgical and medical nursing.

She recalled the days when houses lined Madison Avenue. "We used to catch the streetcar down the street from here," she recalled while looking out of a room in the convent at SEMC. "For a nickel, you could go to Venice or other places."

"We used to watch the smokestacks. If they were smoking, we knew the men were working. We still do today."

Sister Marce's health will not allow her to attend the celebration of the jubilees to be held Saturday, July 7, at the Mount Providence Chapel in Normandy, Mo. But a special Mass was said last week at the SEMC Chapel.

A LARGE GROUP of family members and friends gathered to honor Sister Marce. "I have a close family," she said. "They made it

SEMC vice-president appointed to ACHA

With the appointment of Assistant Vice President Jack Greaves to the American College of Hospital Administrators (ACHA), the top five administrators at St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City, Ill., all hold either memberships or fellowships in the professional society.

According to Greaves, having the top administrators at SEMC in the society "reflects very positively on the hospital." He said of the ACHA,

"It's the organization that provides guidance to people in the field. It helps keep us up to date."

"ACHA provides the opportunity for peers to get together. It shows the commitment that we all have to our professional field. And that carries forward into our day-to-day operation of the hospital."

ACHA is a personal membership professional society. The goal is professional growth and development through continuing education for executives who manage health service facilities.

To attain membership status, the affiliate must serve as a nominee in ACHA for at least two years, pass the Board of Governors' written and oral examination on Health Service Administration and have his credentials reviewed by the board.

Greaves received his Bachelor of Science in Business Administration at Ohio State University in 1973, and his master's in Hospital and Health Administration from St. Louis University in 1975. He first became affiliated with SEMC in 1974 as an Administrative Resident and was named Assistant Vice President in 1975.

Greaves resides in Glen Carbon, Ill., with his wife, Cheryl, and their infant son.

Senate adopts bill for uniform drinking age

The U.S. Senate voted overwhelmingly last week to block highway construction money from states which do not adopt a 21-year-old minimum drinking age within the next two years.

The measure, adopted 81-16, would cut funds to non-complying states by five percent in fiscal year 1987 and 10 percent in fiscal 1988. This could mean a $260 million cut the first year.

States that do not conform would be able to get the money back at a later time when and if they adopt the higher drinking age.

The minimum drinking age in both Illinois and Missouri is 21.

The sponsor of the bill, Senator Frank Lautenberg, (D-N.J.) said it would raise highway grants by five percent for states which impose mandatory jail terms and license revocations for convicted drunk drivers.

Before approving the provision, the Senate ruled out a rival bill that would have rejected the penalty approach. Instead, that bill offered an incentive of an additional five percent in highway money to states enacting 21 as the drinking age.

It also offered five percent more in aid for mandatory sentencing and an additional one percent more for every one percent decrease in alcohol-related deaths.

The action was motivated by pleas from several groups to save the lives of hundreds of young drivers and other persons each year. The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has estimated 1,250 lives would be saved each year by a uniform drinking age of 21.

The proposal was supported by law enforcement and insurance groups, the American Medical Association, the National PTA and Mothers Against Drunk Driving.

Opponents of the bill say it will curb state's rights by forcing them to comply with a federal mandate and will discriminate against younger drivers. Poes also point out that some aged 19 and 20 want to drink and would avoid driving.

Some statistics indicate that nearly half of all traffic deaths in the U.S. have some link to drinking.

The age 21 legislation was returned to the U.S. House to see if it will accept the added incentive provision for states enacting automatic drunk driving penalties.

With congressmen already having approved similar legislation, and President Ronald Reagan supporting the concept, a new uniform minimum drinking age law is now regarded as virtually certain.

Concurring House approval was given later.

Issue $5 million in school notes

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Issuance of general obligation notes totaling $5 million was the main topic during a brief meeting Tuesday night of the Granite City Board of Education.

Further implementing a refinancing program initiated by the board June 28 and 29, board members enacted a note resolution prepared by Chapman & Cutler, Chicago bond counsel.

WORKING WITH the board were Attorney William Schooley III and Don M. Lindberg, a vice president of Dougherty, Dawkins, Strand and Yost, Minneapolis investment bankers. DDSY is buying the 18-month notes at 10.75 percent interest.

Dewey Melton served as acting president. Also participating in the 4-0 approval were Secretary Tom Mioduski, Mrs. Ruth Lehr and Alan Crider. Three board members were absent.

As acting superintendent of schools for the first week of July, Granite City High School Principal Gilbert Walmsley was the chief administrator present.

Assistant Superintendent of Schools Frank L. Kraus will be the interim superintendent beginning his return from vacation on Monday, July 9. The interim appointment extends through June 30, 1985.

THE RESOLUTION adopted Tuesday evening provides for tax anticipation notes that utilize the "full faith and credit" of Granite City Community Unit School District Nine, Madison County.

An Illinois law initially approved July 27, 1972, as amended, authorizes general obligation (GO) notes in an amount not to exceed 85 percent of the taxes levied for a specific purpose for the year during which they are issued.

To qualify to issue the notes, the board during the weekend arranged to retire all $1,500,000 of the district's second-year tax anticipation warrant, reducing its operating debt from $7.6 million to $6.1 million.

AS NOTE REGISTRAR, the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank will maintain a note registrar, recording the registration and transfer of the notes.

An educational purpose sinking fund, Series of 1984, is being created. The notes are to mature Jan. 1, 1986, and the cash is expected to become available to the district July 16. It will be invested immediately.

A service charge will be made for transfer or exchange of notes, but the district or registrar may require a payment sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge imposed in connection with any note transfer or exchange.

The resolution levies on all taxable property in the district: for the 1984 tax year, $5,806,250 for interest and principal on the notes. But a like amount will be abated from the education tax levy adopted Jan. 9, 1984, and slated for revision in the fall of 1984.

INTEREST OR PRINCIPAL due at any time, if there is insufficient money from pledged taxes, will be paid from any available funds of the district in advance of levied taxes. When such taxes have been collected, reimbursement will be made in the amount advanced.

The district has agreed with the note buyers and holders that "so long as any of the notes remain outstanding, the district will take no action or fail to take any action" if the action or non-action would adversely affect the schools' ability to levy and collect the needed taxes.

A copy of the resolution is being filed with the Madison County clerk authorizing extension and collection of note taxes in addition to all other taxes levied by the district. However, Clerk Evelyn Bowles, in computing rates for 1984 (collection in 1985) will reduce them to offset the rate for the notes.

THE DISTRICT prior to Dec. 31, 1984, is to certify to the county clerk the amount of money which may have been borrowed from the working cash fund and that must be reimbursed to that fund. A working cash fund bond issue of up to $6.6 million is intended.

The school system has agreed that the notes and working cash will not exceed the maximum cumulative cash flow deficit in the education fund. The district will take no action with note proceeds that would make the note interest subject to federal income taxes by reason of the notes being classified as arbitrage bonds.

Also, the district will take no action to permit the notes to be issued in, or converted into, bearer or coupon form.

FOR THE JUNE 29 and July 13 payrolls, the board has transferred certificated employees' paychecks to teachers' orders. The orders will be paid by the First Granite City National Bank, which will charge the district 9.5 percent interest.

The district will meet the certificated staff's payroll deductions from its own funds; the orders apply only to the net salary after such deductions as annuities, savings bonds, credit union deposits and withholding taxes.

At the time the district gives notice of its plans for seven-, 10- or 12-year working cash fund GO bonds, it will outline reasons why it believes the refinancing program is of major benefit to the public. The bonds relate to the education, building and transportation funds.

A petition may be filed within 30 days after the notice, indicating that ten percent seek an election Nov. 6.

TEACHER ORDERS paid June 29 amounted to $328,827.

To help end second-year warrants, the board has loaned $660,000 from the vendors' pay account to the education fund. The money is from the sale of school buildings and $180,000 from the building fund to the education fund.

The retirement was funded from the two internal loans and an $800,000 state aid payment.

INTEREST on the $1.5 million was estimated at $80,000 to $90,000. All of the year-end financial moves have been enacted without dissent.

Those active in the planning were Lindberg, Schooley, Finance Director Norman Owca and former Supt. B.J. Davis. The board voted 4-2 June 29 to relieve Davis of his duties the following day.

Murder charges face Madison man

George Smith, who gave police an address of 808 Washington Ave., Madison, was charged with capital murder in connection with the June death of a St. Louis man.

Smith, 35, surrendered at police headquarters Monday afternoon for questioning in the strangulation death of Ralph Cato, 42. Smith was charged Tuesday after refusing to make a statement.

Cato, of St. Louis, was found dead June 4 in the trunk of his car, which was parked on a parking lot of apartments at 14th Street and Choteau Avenue in St. Louis. Police say a cord was wrapped around his neck and that he apparently died of strangulation.

Cato was reported missing June 1 and police say an investigation of his movements led them to question Smith.

TV IN APARTMENT TAKEN

Board majority gives 6 reasons for firing Davis

Six factors were cited by a board majority in dismissing School Supt. Bobby Joe Davis, according to a document made available Tuesday.

A notice of intent not to renew his agreement for employment as superintendent said that:

"Pursuant to the vote of a majority of the Board of Education, Community Unit School District No. 9, Madison County, Ill., at a meeting of the board on June 29, 1984, you are hereby served with notice of the intent of the board not to renew your agreement for employment by the district as superintendent effective July 1, 1985."

"This notice is served pursuant to Illinois Revised Statutes, Ch. 122, 10-21.4. The reasons for the decision not to renew your agreement as superintendent are as follows:

- "1. Your inability to make changes in policy and administration as expected by the Board of Education.
- "2. General poor performance as superintendent.
- "3. A breakdown in communication between the board and the superintendent.
- "4. Your inability to follow directions, policy and instructions as given by the Board of Education.
- "5. Your inability to formulate policy and to provide leadership to the district in financial matters.
- "6. Your lack of loyalty to the Board of Education.

"You are further notified of your right to a closed hearing before the Board of Education upon request in writing within 10 days of the receipt of this notice.

"We further serve notice that we offer you the option during the contract year July 1, 1984, to June 30, 1985, to accept a job within the district as a teacher at your present salary until June 30, 1985, or to receive your present salary until June 30, 1985, without duties within the district.

"You are further notified that you are relieved of your duties as superintendent as of July 1, 1984." The notice was given to Davis by Board Pres. David Partney.

Council annexes land into city

Members of the Granite City Council passed two ordinances Tuesday night annexing land into the city. Both annexations were recommended for approval by the city's Plan Commission.

The first property is located at 3406 Johnson Road. Residents are David and Melanie McFarland.

The second annexation is lots 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 on Stratford Place. The territory is titled in the name of E.G. Steele Development Co., Inc.

Everett Steele had told council members at an earlier meeting that he plans to build six duplexes on the property. He said units will be available for 12 to 15 families.

Arbitration is not the answer

A motion by the Granite City Council Tuesday night obligating the city to binding arbitration for firefighters and other city employees goes against what the firefighters want to do.

In voting for binding arbitration, the city has agreed to accept the judgment of an impartial arbitrator on how much the city employees should be paid. We commented editorially before when the law allowing municipal employees' disagreement to go to binding arbitration was passed that we did not agree.

No one person, no matter how skilled at labor relations, should decide how our tax money is to be spent. That decision should rightly be left up to elected officials who can be ousted by the voters if the taxpayers are unhappy with their performance. There is no way to vote an arbitrator out of office. We heartily agree with Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman, that if the impasse continues, a mediator should be called in. That would leave the final decision on a contract up to the elected aldermen.

Certainly, city employees deserve fair consideration of their side and are overdue for a raise. We do not quarrel with their position.

We just feel that we elected aldermen to handle our money and do not like the idea of them giving that job to anyone else who does not have to answer to the voters.

Binding arbitration is just an escape hatch from a very difficult spot.

A 'sin tax' on soft drinks?

While we find the proposal on the governor's desk for a five-percent tax on soft drinks distasteful, we find the thought that it is to be used primarily for Chicago unpalatable.

In delving ways to fund McCormick Place expansion and the 1992 World's Fair in Chicago, lawmakers in Springfield came up with the idea of imposing the tax on soft drinks as one of the so-called "sin tax" targets, such as cigarettes, liquor and gambling.

Legislators argue that this is not a new tax, only a loophole, since soft drinks should not have been included in list when the state repealed the five percent tax on food and medicines Jan. 1. Beverages containing 50 percent fruit juice or more will not be taxed.

To get downstate support, the bill also includes a statewide tourism program and state park rehabilitation, but the intent of the bill seems primarily to be giving the majority of the money to Chicago. It is estimated the soft drink tax will raise $31 million in Fiscal Year 1985 and average nearly $50 million a year thereafter.

To lump soft drinks with cigarettes, liquor and gambling as sin tax candidates is, in our opinion, erroneous. We hope the governor refuses to sign the bill.

Easy solution for police staffing

To the Editor:

It was quite amusing to read the article in the Thursday, June 28th issue of the Press-Record in regard to the issues "muddling" the hiring of more Madison police officers.

Alderman Thomas Givord states that several issues have complicated the hiring of additional officers, which includes the hiring of a minority.

The answer would seem quite simple. I would think, since we have had four resignations and the fourth candidate is a minority, just hire him and the problem is solved.

The West Madison area deserves minority representation on our police department. Add it would make handling calls in that area much easier for the officers, with a minority on the police force.

If the alderman would think about what the ordinance concerning police manpower states, it requires 12 sworn police officers. However, we have only seven at the present time.

According to FBI statistics, an urban metropolitan area, which we are, should have 2.7 policemen per 1,000 residents.

We are a far cry from that total. It seems that the alderman and police commissioners are passing the buck on who is responsible for the failure to hire any new officers.

The aldermen do not have problems agreeing when it comes to additional appropriations for cable-alarm TV expenditures, that we still don't have, or the freezing of city employees wages for the last four years, or the passing of the monthly bills which include their salaries.

So the final word is, that apparently the aldermen are not upholding the oath that they took when they were elected to office. It would be hard for me to explain to my constituents why the street department has 11 men who work strictly during the weekday hours, while the police department works around the clock everyday with only seven men.

The aldermen have an eligibility list to hire from, so hire more policemen and quit muddling around. I realize that sometimes the bureaucratic process works slowly. However, Officer Baczewski has been gone since October 1983, and he still hasn't been replaced, not counting the other three officers who have departed after him.

Balancing nation's priorities is essential

To the Editor:

Each year when members of Congress debate and enact the federal budget, they are doing more than simply approving a budget. They are making a statement about how this nation allocates its resources.

Recently, in response to what I believe is a clear inequity in our budgetary priorities, I introduced a motion which would have cut the amount authorized for defense spending by $5.3 billion.

A decrease of that amount would limit the real increase in defense spending this year to 10 percent real growth, rather than the 7.5 percent growth requested in the Department of Defense authorization bill.

While I support a strong defense, and have been supportive of programs and projects to strengthen our defenses since coming to the Senate, I believe we must also be prudent.

We must balance our defense needs against other needs in our country. We must pay careful attention to our human needs.

Although my motion was defeated by 55-43, I believe an increase in defense spending of 5 percent is reasonable.

Such an increase would allow us to maintain the current defense effort, and allow us to continue some of the vital domestic programs important to our future.

The Administration had originally asked for a 13 percent increase in the defense budget and then, in a "compromise," agreed to lower its request to 5 percent.

I do not believe we can afford a 7.5 percent increase while education programs are dying, while nutritional programs have been abandoned, while the hungry are still hungry in our major cities, while the farmer is falling on the American farm, and while 58,000 Illinoisans who want work can't find jobs.

By the Pentagon's own admission, 7.5 percent is more than three times what the Russians spend in their defense budget.

In the debate on my motion, I pointed out that in constant dollars, this year's defense budget now exceeds all defense budgets since World War II, including even the peak defense budget outlays of the Korean and Vietnam Wars. Further, the projected 1989 defense budget will exceed even World War II defense budgets, in constant dollars and becoming the largest since the Civil War.

I did not introduce my motion, however, just to single out defense spending as the source of our fiscal difficulty.

I recently supported amendments which called for freezes across-the-board and freezes which called for a shared sacrifice.

It is my profound belief that the need to curtail government spending, fairly and equitably, is shared by the vast majority of the American people.

Our defense program reeks with excesses against the rest of the budget, and demands cutting. While my motion to limit the Pentagon's budget increase to a respectable 5 percent failed, I feel confident that the day will come when we recognize that taking this tough course of action is absolutely necessary to ensure the underlying strength of our great nation.

School spanking results in lawsuit

A multimillion-dollar lawsuit against the Granite City school district, former Supt. B.J. Davis and Principal Alfred J. Wilson, was filed Tuesday in Emerson School.

The 30-count suit in the Madison County Circuit Court seeks actual and punitive damages, respectively, of $15,000-plus and $4.7 million for battery, $15,000-plus and $3.6 million for willful and wanton conduct, $15,000-plus and $3.5 million for violation of the child's civil rights, and $15,000-plus and $2.7 million for intentional infliction of emotional distress.

Davis said the boy transferred here from Washington, Ill., without records when the family moved to Granite City; initially placed in a regular class, he later was transferred to special instruction.

His parents contend that the padding suit for allegedly disrupting a class caused emotional and physical harm. Lack of immediate assignment to a special class amounted to failure to adequately meet their son's needs, they assert.

Wilson did not provide prompt testing or evaluation of the boy, the suit says. The child is now 13 years old. Emerson closed in 1983 and Wilson is now principal at Marshall School. Nationally known for his leadership in utilizing newspapers for instructional purposes, Wilson has led school-wide newspaper-in-classroom programs at Emerson and now Marshall.

Details of the suit indicate that a wooden paddle was used, injuring buttocks and thighs.

The principal says the padding was not excessive for a sixth grader, nor did it involve violence. The lawsuit calls it "excessive and illicit violence."

School board action

The Granite City School Board last week voted to dismiss Superintendent B.J. Davis. At that time, no specific reasons for the action were given. Granite City residents shopping at Crossroads Plaza were asked Tuesday how they felt about the school board's action. Their reactions follow:

Andrew Timko, Granite City
"Personally, I don't know the full circumstances behind it, but I don't think it's right. I don't know the deal behind (the firing of Employee Relations Administrator Harold) Hillmer, either."

Eckhardt Gerig, Granite City
"It came as a surprise to me. I didn't know about it until it came out in the newspaper. I really don't feel one way or the other."

Evadean Perkins, Granite City
"I really don't know much about it, but I always liked Davis. It's a shame."

Jeannie Hoffman, Granite City
"I think I'd rather have Davis than (Assistant Superintendent Frank) Kraus. It really surprised me."

Flat-rate US income tax proposal

To the Editor:

The centerpiece of Ronald Reagan's campaign for the presidency in 1980 was the Kemp-Roth tax cut, a 30 percent reduction in individual income tax rates.

Pres. Reagan's landslide victory that year, combined with his party's winning control of the Senate and adding dozens of members in the House of Representatives, ensured that tax rates would indeed fall. True to his campaign promise, the administration drafted and passed through Congress the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981.

It wasn't Kemp-Roth verbatim — rates were cut by only 25 percent and the rate reductions were delayed — but it was pretty close. Political observers, economists and, last but not least, American taxpayers are beginning to watch the 1984 presidential election for clues as to what changes in the tax code we can expect in 1985.

In general, Republican candidates oppose raising federal taxes and argue that the deficit spending problem would be attacked with a combination of spending restraint and continued economic growth.

Democrats tend to focus on increasing taxes. Voters in November will choose between these two contrasting approaches in the presidential election, as well as in Senate and House races.

It is not surprising that the two major parties in the United States would offer conflicting policies on the deficit. That is why we have two parties and not one.

What is surprising, however, is that this early in the 1984 campaign major figures in both political parties, representing liberals and conservatives, are building an uneasy consensus on a rather important tax issue. That is the concept of a flat tax.

The flat-tax coalition is a rather broad one at the moment. There are more than a dozen separate bills before Congress all parading under the rubric of the flat tax. Most are not a true flat tax with one rate and no deductions. But all are attempts at gross simplification of the tax code.

Some flat taxes are flatter than other flat taxes, but they all make some movement toward three principles. A reformed federal income tax, they agree, should be simpler, more fair and economically efficient, i.e., it should provide greater incentives to work, save and invest.

In the interest of simplicity and fairness, each of these proposals reduced the number of exemptions and deductions in the tax code and also reduces the number of income tax brackets.

This would be progress toward a tax code understandable to individuals without an advanced degree in accounting, and it would also increase confidence in the tax code by assuring Americans that other taxpayers are not getting away with paying "less than their fair share" through complex and costly loopholes.

To promote economic growth, the flat tax proposals reduce the top marginal tax rate from the present 50 percent to a high of 30 percent in the Bradley-Gephardt bill and to as low as 10 percent in Rep. Mark Suljander's (R-Mich.) legislation.

Reducing the number of exemptions and deductions also begins to get the government out of the business of using the tax code for social engineering. ("Do what Uncle Sam wants you to do and you get a nice tax deduction.")

I do not mean to exaggerate the degree of consensus surrounding the flat tax proposals. Very real differences remain.

The Kemp-Kasten flat tax proposal would establish a top marginal rate of 25 percent and, by doubling the personal and dependent exemptions, remove all federal taxes from the first $14,000 of income for a family of four.

Bradley-Gephardt would establish rates of 14 percent, 26 percent and 30 percent. Unfortunately, this bill would also increase the capital gains tax and repeal indexing of tax brackets, bringing back the hidden tax of "bracket creep."

Sen. Dennis DeConcini's (D-Ariz.) flat tax proposal would establish a 18 percent flat rate and fully integrate the corporate and individual income taxes.

And Rep. Suljander's bill would establish a flat tax of 10 percent.

One danger posed by the movement toward the flat tax is that some politicians see the flat tax as a way to increase taxes under the guise of tax reform. We have been fooled by this strategy before.

As the political campaigns of the fall heat up, we must be very careful to examine the various proposals and ensure that "broadening the tax base" does not become this year's euphemism for hiking taxes.

Still, despite the differences, it is heartening to see congressmen moving away from the idea of a graduated income tax designed to punish work and savings.

This movement toward a bipartisan understanding of the role of incentives in economic growth certainly drops the tax code as a way to increase taxes under the guise of tax reform. We have been fooled by this strategy before.

Given the tremendous growth and job creation spurred by the 1981 reduction in income tax rates, just imagine the growth and progress possible in the last half of this decade if marginal rates were actually dropped to a maximum of 30 percent or 25 percent or 19 percent or even 10 percent.

If the 1984 campaign brings such progress, hold onto your hats and get ready for an economic boom such as the world has never seen before.

Hogan urges new approach to solving school problems

Following is a statement by School Treasurer Kelly Hogan. He read it at the June 29 meeting of the Granite City Board of Education.

During the campaign and since being elected to this Board of Education in November of 1983, I have heard the people of this community repeatedly ask that the members of this Board of Education start conducting themselves in a responsive as well as a businesslike manner.

In addressing the public and special groups during the course of the election campaign, I personally stated that in order to salvage as well as reconstruct the educational system in this community, School District 9, it would take the combined efforts of four groups of people within the community—the board, the administration, the employees and the public.

I felt then, as I still feel presently, that only those four groups working together can solve the problems which face this district.

I thought that after the political process of electing a new board that the politics would end.

A new process of the board working with the administration and their employees to formulate a working relationship with a common goal in mind would take place. That has not been the case at all.

The politics still remain. The games that were played in the past are still being played with employees.

The central office of administration is still withholding reports, studies and recommendations compiled by building administrators, department heads, as well as employee groups, from the board members.

The public is still only told half-truths, those which paint a picture of black or a picture of doom.

Some of the board members along with administrators prefer to continue to request studies—some of which have cost as much as $9,000 to $10,000—and more administrative (central office) information that allows them to procrastinate and prolong the ultimate responsive decision to an important issue. This is what I have witnessed in the last eight months.

What I haven't seen is a long-term solution to a long-term problem.

It appears that the leadership from the central office of administration—along with several board members—prefers to take the bandage approach versus major surgery to the present and future needs of this educational system.

I believe that before a solution can be achieved, there must be a positive and a constructive attempt made to address all the areas of need.

1. What do we as parents and citizens, as well as taxpayers, want our educational system to look like in five or even ten years?

2. What do we want to offer in the way of educational opportunities to the students of this district?

3. To what degree do we want to prepare our youth for the challenges and responsibilities that they must meet after they graduate?

Once we—working together—have answered these questions, and only then, can we begin to determine to what extent we need to staff, equip and finance our school system.

It is apparent that in the past, and presently, we have only looked at financing our past mistakes or debt over a period of years in the future.

If we as parents, citizens and taxpayers agree to a tax increase, will the additional income insure us that the students will receive a better education under improved conditions?

Or—

1. Will the classrooms still be overcrowded?

2. Will our present buildings and rooms continue to deteriorate?

3. Will the instructional equipment remain outdated and in need of repair and/or replacement?

4. Will we still be able to offer all of the extracurricular activities such as sports, band, speech and theater, pep clubs, chorus and many others?

5. Will our employees still be told that there are no funds available for salary and benefit increases?

6. Will we as taxpayers still be asked for additional funds in one, two or three years because the district is again in debt?

What is the long-term answer? Is one individual do not have the long-term answer.

But I feel that if I, as a board member, ask you, as parent, as citizens, and as business leaders and most of all taxpayers, that by working together we will find an answer as well as a long-term solution, not only to these past and present problems but to any future problems that may arise.

I as one board member can only suggest, but with your help we can succeed.

I propose that a committee should be formed to actively address as well as formulate a well-designed and planned educational system for at least the next five years, along with a cost factor which will represent that system in terms of dollars and cents. Then we can plan for a long-term educational system.

I also feel that this committee should consist of representatives of the following groups within the community:

1. Parents through the PTA's and PTA Council.

2. Business leaders through the Chamber of Commerce.

3. Finance through local bankers, and loan companies.

B. CPA's through local CPA firms.

C. Attorneys through local law firms.

3. Administrators and teachers (finance personnel building level and classroom level).

4. Board members (two maximum).

5. Member of the council or association of ministers locally.

6. Business and fraternal organization.

7. Press.

While I also realize that not only the past boards and this present board have chosen to use up valuable time, have not seen fit to have a plan nor direction in mind or sight, I can only ask and hope that you the parents, business leaders, employees and especially you the taxpayer will not choose to further punish the students of this district, but will say Yes to a tax bond issue in November of 1984.

But I certainly hope that if this course of action—or a better one—is not considered and followed, that each of you will hold each of the present board members accountable at the next school board election in November of 1985.

In summary, I firmly believe that the time is past due for this board and administration to start conducting themselves in an honest and open straight forward manner, not only with their employees but, especially with the public, Hogan concluded.

Emergency loan deadline for area farms

The Emergency Agricultural Credit Act of 1984 extended the period to file applications for Farmers Home Administration Emergency loans. In Illinois, farmers who sustained qualifying losses due to drought and high temperatures between June 15, 1983, and October 10, 1983, may apply through Monday, July 9.

Crop losses of 30 percent or more are qualifying. Loans may be made for 80 percent of the loss, not to exceed $500,000.

Farmers unable to obtain credit elsewhere may borrow at a five percent interest rate up to $100,000, with an additional part of the loan at an eight percent interest rate up to $100,000, with an additional part of the loan at an eight percent interest rate.

The rate is 13.75 percent for those able to obtain credit elsewhere. Applications are to be filed at this address: Farmers Home Administration, 1200 Hillside Ave., P.O. Box 424, Edwardsville, Ill. 62025.

WOMAN IS STRUCK BY MAN
Renee Miller of the Bissell Apartments told Venice police last week that she was struck in the face by a former friend while doing laundry at a local laundromat. A suspect is being sought on a battery complaint.

LOVE BOAT voyage highlighted the month of June for Mr. and Mrs. Albert (Carmel) Froemling. Television daytime dramatic stars were special guests, and Mrs. Froemling is pictured with Peter Reckell; he portrays Bob Brady on the Days of Our Lives series. Other "soap opera" actors and actresses were on the vessel as it traveled from Acapulco to Los Angeles, with the celebrities signing autographs and answering questions from the passengers. More stars were visited at a studio rehearsal in Los Angeles.

Madison may hire four officers

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

The Madison Police Department will have an additional three or four officers, to replace four officers who either resigned or retired, as a result of action taken at the Madison City Council meeting Tuesday night.

After a short executive session, the aldermen returned to regular session and Alderman William Cigich made a motion that the council accept the top five candidates on an eligibility list and, after physical examinations and background checks, three or four will be selected and hired at the next regular council session July 17.

THE TOP candidates for the police department will be required to take a physical examination from the city-retained doctor, Dr. Muhammad with offices at 406 Madison Ave., Madison.

Apparently the physical examination is the first condition for approval or rejection of a candidate's ability to fulfill his duties as a police officer. It was indicated.

Before the aldermen went into executive session, Robert Grieve made a motion the council hire Steven Skoklo as a replacement officer. At this point, Alderman Thomas Gordon asked the council go into executive session to discuss the subject of personnel and Grieve withdrew his motion.

THOSE UNDER consideration achieved the top five spots in a police eligibility test. Richard Ballew holds the highest score, Brian Oestricher second, Skoklo, third, Curtis Bradley, fourth, and Kirk Harlan, fifth. Bradley is the only black candidate among the selected group.

Training for the newly-selected police officers will not begin until September. Police Chief Don Briddick said in an earlier interview, however, that a probationary officer could take firearms training as a weekend course and serve the city before entering the 10-week academy program.

THE ISSUE of hiring more police officers has been of concern in Madison in recent months due to the resignation or retirement of Bradlee, Skoklo, William Weidner, Norris Horton and Richard Asperger. With only six officers and the chief of police active in the department, those men on duty have been required to work six days a week and, depending on what shift they were assigned, sometimes tallied 10 hours a day.

According to the law, men on the eligibility list must be called according to their standing after taking the department test.

CHIEF BRIDICK commented after the council action, "My only concern is the Board of Police Commissioners, who do the hiring, will do this rapidly and according to law and hiring procedures, because the men on duty now need relief."

There is a firearms training program to begin July 17 which the new officers could be enrolled in and then attend the police academy on Sept. 30 for further training.

In the absence of Mayor Mike Sayk, Alderman Christ Costoff served as pro tem mayor for the meeting.

IN OTHER business, the council members agreed to a bill in the amount of $39,028 and accepted a report by John Dutko, building inspector that 27 permits were issued for the month.

After some deliberation and analysis by Mike Macke, the aldermen accepted a contract bid from Lakeside Roofing Co. of $8,779 to replace the roof of the fire station and $7,600 to re-roof the city hall. Both bids included labor and material to complete the work for a total of $16,379, as compared to an estimate from Geissler Roofing Co. in Belleville to replace the roof at the fire station for a cost of $11,939, and an additional $556 for work on the existing gutters. This figure did not include the roof work needed at the city hall.

Approval was given by the aldermen to transfer $10,000 from the revenue sharing fund to the Madison Public Library fund and to pay bills amounting to $2,231 for the Alpine Shopping Center.

ON THE recommendation of Macke, the council members gave approval for James Bistrot to become a cadet on the fire department.

John Bellocc read a letter relating to the Illinois-American Water Co., which is to appear before the Illinois Commerce Commission to request a rate hike. The document was referred to the city attorney for consideration.

Escaped murderer is captured

Joliet State Police picked up Illinois prison escapee Harold B. Jeffries, 49, of Willitsville, Ill., was one of three men involved in Monday's prison break. The trio used a rifle to scale the prison wall at Joliet and then jumped 33 feet to the ground. Jeffries was the only one to escape. Roddy broke a leg in the jump and was captured near the prison, while Brian Nelson, 39, Chicago, was captured about 90 minutes after the escape.

Search crews from eight prisons and police helicopters were called out to search for Jeffries, who is a former Quad-City area resident. Jeffries was sentenced in April to serve 60 years in prison for the Dec. 9, 1983, murder of Gary Rook in Rook's Collinsville apartment. Jeffries waived his right to trial and pleaded guilty to murder, armed robbery and home invasion. He also was sentenced to 14 years in prison for soliciting to escape from the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville last May. Two men were captured on the jail roof attempting to break in and free Jeffries.

The murder sentence was to be served after Jeffries completes a 35-year sentence an armed robbery of the Schnucks Market in Granite City Jan. 17, 1983. He pleaded guilty to that robbery and an armed robbery in St. Clair County.

AFTER The Schnucks robbery, Jeffries was spotted in Madison and chased after he escaped from the Granite City, Madison and Venice police departments. A .357-caliber revolver and a paper sack containing several hundred dollars were found in his auto.

Jeffries also has been convicted of walking away from the farm at the Menard Correctional Center in Chester.

Jeffries, who has listed addresses in Granite City, Cloverleaf, St. Clair County and Ponton, Mo., has spent 25 of the last 29 years in prison, authorities said.

Sisters

Theodore recalled. "I JUST MADE UP my mind. I thought there was nothing else to do, that we all had to make sacrifices and live a life according to what God plans for us."

"And if we didn't, we wouldn't really make a success of it. We were taught that when we went to school. We had to try to follow it."

Sister Theodore said she enjoyed working as a nurse in surgery. She had a feeling that you wanted to help those that were in misery and that needed to be helped. I thought it was the right place to be.

Sister Theodore is the oldest nurse at SEMC, and she still does nursing work part-time.

SHE EXPLAINED her philosophy of the nursing life: "To be a comfort and help if something happens to anyone," she said. "You're supposed to take care of yourself. You're supposed to think of what you can do to help others."

"That was my whole ambition in spite of everything that was hard or seemed hard."

"Some nurses think it's hard to do some of these things. But that isn't what we went for. It wasn't my ambition to look at the easy part of life."

FOUR SISTERS of the Order of Divine Providence will be celebrating their silver jubilee (25th anniversary) this month.

Sister Mary Michael (McCulla) has been a nurse at SEMC since 1968, and has served as nursing services director at the medical center. Originally from Reno, Nev., she graduated from Mount Providence High School from Marillac College in Normandy. She has taught in Venice; Wardville, Mo.; Brussels, and Normandy.

Sister Mary Timothy (Meehan) was born and raised in Venice. She attended St. Mark's Grade School in Venice, Mount Providence High School, Marillac College and Harris Teacher's College in St. Louis.

SHE HAS TAUGHT in Madison, Granite City, Westchester, Ill.; Brussels, Normandy and Imperial, Mo.

Sister Jp Ann (Simanella) attended grade school in Normandy. She received her bachelor's degree from Marillac College in 1972, and her master's degree in 1980 from the University of Dayton. She has been a teacher for 25 years and has taught in Madison, Brussels, Westchester and St. Louis.

Sister Agnes Marie (Geriger) graduated from Rosati-Kain High School in St. Louis and has been a cook at Mount Providence for 25 years. She takes the bread for SEMC's Bread Days, and carried the offering of bread at the dedication of the statue of St. Elizabeth at SEMC.

Arbitration

something to give to the other party," he said. "We have nothing to give them. I think that if we don't pass this (resolution for binding arbitration) now, it will show poor faith on the part of the city. And I think it would eventually go against us."

Those voting in favor of the motion include Aldermen Everett Morlan, Skubish, Carl Kittel, Fisk, Sharon Perjak, Lloyd Bailey, Woodrow "Woody" Moad, Stephen Saltich and Paul Ray Bowler. Alderman Michael Modrusic was not able to attend the meeting because of work.

MADISON MAN TICKETED

Jeffrey Lynn Wells, 20, of 1907 Fourth St., Madison, was charged with a violation of a driver's license classification, speeding and causing unnecessary noise with a motor vehicle, at 7:10 p.m. Monday. Wells was released on $102 cash bond.

Profits at A. O. Smith

Sales and earnings growth of A. O. Smith Corporation is expected to slow in the second quarter, although first-half 1984 results will remain well ahead of a year ago, company officials estimated last week. The firm is preparing to reopen its Granite City plant.

Thomas I. Dolan, president and chief executive officer, said mounting losses at two agricultural subsidiaries will keep second quarter earnings about level with the same period of 1983. Sales in the quarter will be only modestly ahead of a year ago.

The strong first quarter 1984 showing, however, means sales and earnings for the first six months of the year are significantly better than the first half of 1983.

Dolan said second-quarter sales will be in the area of $244 million compared with sales of $234.6 million in the second quarter of 1983. He estimated earnings for the period at $4.8 million to $5.6 million, or from 65 to 75 cents per share, compared with $5.2 million or 71 cents per share in the second quarter a year ago.

For the first six months of 1984, Dolan estimated sales at $500 million compared with $439.9 million a year ago.

First-half earnings will be in the range of $12.6 million to $13.4 million, or $1.70 to $1.80 per share, compared with earnings of $6.4 million or 87 cents per share in the same period of 1983.

All major operating units except A. O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc. and AgriStar Credit Corp. will report higher sales and earnings in the first half of the year compared with 1983, Dolan said.

In the second quarter, sales of electric motors will be ahead of a year ago while sales of automotive structural products and water heating equipment will be near level with 1983.

As expected, General Motors converted three of its plants to body-frame integral small car assembly during the second quarter, reducing the demand for separate frames produced by A. O. Smith.

Sales of the Automotive Products Co. in the second quarter are expected to be 13 percent behind the first quarter of the year.

The slowdown in demand for separate passenger car frames has been somewhat offset by increasing sales of structural parts for trucks. Earnings at the Automotive Products Co. will be ahead of the comparable periods of 1983.

"The steps this unit took in earlier years to reduce costs and improve quality are paying off today," Dolan said.

The planned phase-out of separate frames in certain GM passenger cars is proceeding in an orderly fashion and we are in the process of converting our manufacturing facilities for the production of other products.

The major problem faced by A. O. Smith, Dolan said, is the continuing difficulty in the farm economy, which is not conducive to capital spending.

As a consequence, sales of A. O. Smith Harvestore are expected to be off substantially from historical levels and well below the depressed results of 1983. This lack of volume is causing this subsidiary to operate at a significant loss," he said.

BURGLARS RANSACK THREE BEDROOMS AND A BASEMENT

Burglars entered the home of Robert L. Hawthorne, 2329 Cardinal Ave., and ransacked three bedrooms and the basement. It was reported at 1:40 a.m. Sunday.

A lock was pried on a rear door at the dwelling the gate to a privacy fence also was damaged. Immediately determined to be missing were a bottle of whiskey, a six-pack of beer and $5 in change. Items at the home were being inventoried.

GC parks coping with roof damage

Estimates of wind and rain damage to roofs of buildings within the Granite City park district total $67,000 and the losses are in the process of being settled with the Royal Insurance Co.

The roof of the ice rink also was damaged and this will cost the park district $28,000, half of the cost. It was noted at last week's park board meeting.

A tentative estimate on installing a roofing system on the large meeting room at the Harold Brown Recreation Center was set at $36,000, about $9,000 more than initially projected. It involves a new type of liquid plastic process.

David Nolan, director of parks and recreation, said such work is considered unusually long lasting. There would be a 10-year warranty against water damage and a 20-year warranty on replacement.

No decision was made, since the insurance company has not submitted a final appraisal for the storm-damaged buildings.

Permission was given to the American Red Cross to use the Wilson Park swimming pool July 5 for its handicapped swim program, to the Paddlers swim team to use park benches for a championship meet Aug. 4 and to the Word of Life Tabernacle Church to use Tri-City Park for a church picnic Aug. 25.

Permission was given Ray Hoffman to hold a church league state tournament on the park fields this year. And the Madrigal Group will use the Lincoln Place Community Center for practice sessions Monday through Thursday.

Letters of resignation were accepted from Jack Trittschuh and Robert Firsich.

The annual statement of cash receipts and expenditures for the park district, compiled by John Mink, treasurer, was submitted to the board, listing a balance of $168,518 at the close of the year on April 30, 1984, compared to $147,209 on April 30, 1983.

Total funds available amounted to $1,923,038 (including $100,000 in certificates of deposit) and expenditures totaled $854,520 for 1983-84.

The treasurer's monthly report dated May 31, 1984, showed deposits of $128,001, disbursements for expenses of $46,692 and payroll costs of $14,488.

Corporate personal property replacement taxes amounted to $67,708 in 1983-84 and $16,562 for 1984-1985 and real estate taxes totaled $424,894 in 1983-84 and $5,985 in 1984-85. The $5,985 is the final tax payment for the 1982 tax year (1983 collection).

How to save money on your grocery bills

Here are some important shopping tips

- 1—Check specials in food store advertisements.
- 2—Get to know the butcher and produce manager.
- 3—Find out when deliveries of perishables are made and shop on those days. Fresher foods last longer and consequently, you'll waste less.
- 4—Learn to estimate accurately the amounts of food needed. Keep a record of the amount of food you throw away in a week. It may alert you to ways you can reduce waste.
- 5—For economy and variety, use eggs, dry beans, and peanut butter in place of meat some of the time. These foods provide protein and most other nutrients that meat supplies.
- 6—Use nonfat dry milk, which is less expensive than fluid milk, at least part of the time in cooking and as a beverage.
- 7—By law, economy sizes of non-food items must save you at least 5% over other sizes of the same brand.
- 8—Try to shop as seldom as possible, preferably once a week.
- 9—Always shop with a well thought out shopping list. Try to base your list of foods on your menu for the week.
- 10—Take advantage of the special coupon offers going on at First Granite City Savings in conjunction with your local Schnuck's grocer.

Exhaust testing on governor's desk

Quad-City area residents are among those who will have to undergo rigorous testing of their vehicles beginning in 1986, but, in its present form, residents of Collinsville, Edwardsville and Troy are among those exempt from the law.

2 pedestrians hit; fireworks arrests here

Two pedestrians were injured by autos on the eve of the local observance of the Fourth of July, Independence Day.

With rain a factor on the holiday, dozens of street and highway collisions were tallied in this region and Granite City police recorded 12 traffic injuries.

Police responded to many complaints about fireworks and other fireworks both July 3 and 4, and two persons were arrested for setting off fireworks—Carlton J. Turner, 37, of 1011 E. Florence, 39, of 4810 Kirkpatrick Homes.

Officers were dispatched to the apartment complex to check on fireworks complaints, and said a rocket struck the windshield of a squad car as it approached the area. The two adults and many youngsters were outdoors at the time.

The police confiscated many fireworks items there.

One of the pedestrians injured Tuesday was Scott W. Braswell, 10 years old, of 2238 Grand Ave. Location of the 2 p.m. mishap was the 1400 block of Madison Avenue.

Roxanna Lowe, 67, of 2100 S. Washington Ave., was southbound when the boy ran eastward from the curb and against the right rear of her auto.

He said he was not knocked off his feet, but was spun around by the impact. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

Brent L. McKenney, 18, of 2300 Washington Ave. was treated at the Medical Center at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday after his right leg was run over by an auto in a parking area at 3400 Nameoki Road.

Shelly R. Boaz, 17, of 307 Wilson Park Lane was backing her car out of a parking space when the left front wheel came in contact with the pedestrian's leg.

Charge filed in stabbing

Hubert B. Williams, 56, of 709 Twenty-Sixth St., was charged with aggravated battery in informational documents issued Tuesday through the Madison County state's attorney's office in Edwardsville.

The felony charge stemmed from an incident at Twenty-Sixth Street and Broadway at 8:30 p.m. Monday when Williams allegedly stabbed David Barron, 22, of 2510 Delmar Ave.

Officers went to the dwelling after receiving an anonymous call and found Barron had been taken by friends in a pickup truck to the medical center.

Barron suffered a stab wound to the left side of his lower abdomen and underwent surgery. He was listed in stable condition Tuesday at the Granite City hospital.

Police found Williams, unarmed, sitting inside the doorway at his residence and he was placed under arrest.

Reports indicated that Williams and Barron were arguing in the yard at 709 Twenty-Sixth Street when Williams displayed a knife with a four-inch blade and allegedly struck Barron.

Two men who had been barbecuing in a nearby yard saw the pair arguing and went to see what was occurring, reports said.

One of the men kicked Williams' chest, causing him to drop the knife, and also struck the alleged assailant's jaw, he told police.

The weapon was picked up by the other man who had gone to investigate the dispute and he threw it into an auto, reports said. The knife was recovered by police.

Officers learned Williams, Barron and another man earlier that day had driven to the Pere Marquette area, north of Alton, and the argument ensued when they returned.

In an appearance at the Granite City court Tuesday afternoon, Williams' bond was set at $35,000 and a mittimus was to be issued to send him to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

The emissions inspection legislation passed by the Illinois General Assembly in the waning hours before adjournment Sunday night.

GOVERNOR JAMES THOMPSON has said he may make some changes in the legislation before signing it, but did not indicate whether that action might include adding other cities to the list requiring testing.

He indicated he is opposed to a portion of the bill which calls for the state to pay for the individual tests, saying state highway funds should not be diverted to the testing program.

Legislators also have indicated that there is sufficient time to amend the legislation before it becomes effective. Stickers are not to be sent to auto owners until the fall of 1985 and tests will be required once those stickers expire, beginning in 1986.

INDUSTRIALIZED areas of St. Clair and Madison counties were "zip coded" out of the auto emissions legislation.

The legislation also covers industrialized portions of several Chicago area counties.

In reluctantly approving an emissions testing program for parts of the Metro-East and greater Chicago areas after three roll calls and with only one vote to spare, the legislature warded off the threat of less of $100 million in federal highway funds.

Environmental Protection Agency officials said they are generally satisfied with the legislation, but further study is needed to determine whether the bill meets all federal requirements.

GOV. THOMPSON now has 60 days to sign the bill. He has indicated that he has reservations about the legislation as passed Sunday night and does not want gasoline tax revenues diverted from road building and repair to the program.

As the legislation now stands, the estimated $30 to $35 million cost of the testing program would come out of state road funds. In earlier versions of the bill, motorists were to pay a $10 inspection fee.

The testing would be performed at the state's emissions testing stations. As the legislation now stands, the estimated $30 to $35 million cost of the testing program would come out of state road funds. In earlier versions of the bill, motorists were to pay a $10 inspection fee.

SHOULD A VEHICLE fail the emissions test, motorists would still be have to pay for any repairs of deficiencies. Motorists who fail to pass the testing and refuse repairs could lose their licenses and auto plates and be subject to fines.

If a vehicle fails the first test, the owner will be given 30 days to correct the deficiency and return the vehicle for a second test. If it fails again and the owner can show proof the vehicle has had a tuneup, a waiver will be issued, under the current bill. The bill would exempt vehicles of the 1967 model year and older as well as diesel vehicles, trucks weighing over 8,000 pounds, motorcycles and farm vehicles.

The General Assembly adjourned its session on Wednesday, July 4, at approximately 7:30 p.m. Sunday. Its official adjournment is at midnight, June 30, but the session ran over mainly because of the emissions testing bill.

LEGISLATORS were told that, in the event the General Assembly did not approve the exhaust testing before adjournment, EPA officials would have begun sanctions to withhold federal highway funds. Gov. Thompson also threatened to call a special session if no action had been taken.

Stickers will be sent by the secretary of state's office to all vehicle owners by Oct. 1, 1985, with staggered months for expiration. Testing will be required when each sticker expires in 1986.

3 charges are dropped

Associate Judge Edward C. Ferguson has dismissed three of six charges of official misconduct against Namook Township Highway Commissioner Frank Melchic, who has been accused of instructing township employees to work on his property.

The judge said it was unclear whether any personal advantage was involved.

Ferguson noted that it is possible the facts could show that Melchic acted solely for publicity or political advantage, but he said that, as a matter of law, publicity or politics are not a personal advantage.

The judge rejected appointing a special prosecutor, ruling that the Melchic case is not related to a case against State's Attorney Don Weber.

Shots hit truck at W. Pontoon-Route 3

Walter E. Griffith, 23, of North St., narrowly escaped being struck, by one of five or six shots fired at the pickup truck he was driving at 9:20 p.m. Monday. Three of the shots struck the vehicle, reports said.

Griffith, 47, told police he was driving on West Pontoon Road near Route 3 when the shooting started. The shots came from a vehicle behind his truck, he alleged.

After turning south on Route 3, Griffith said the assailant's vehicle continued straight across the highway, heading west toward the Chain of Rocks Canal levee.

Reports said the bullets appeared to have been fired from a .38- or a .357-caliber weapon.

One bullet came through the rear window of Griffith's truck, missing him by about six or eight inches, then exited through the windshield.

Another shot hit the truck's taillight, lodging inside, and a third shot struck the right side of the vehicle and embedded near the roof.

Grand jury to study death of Jacqueline Reed, age 25

A Madison County grand jury will hear evidence today to determine if prosecution is warranted in the death of Jacqueline Marlyse Reed, 25, a former Granite Cityan.

A coroner's jury in Granite City ruled June 22 that Miss Reed's death was caused by homicide and recommended that the case be bound over to the state's attorney's office.

The state's attorney, Don Weber, told reporters that the case will go before a grand jury today.

Reed's death to evidence submitted to the coroner's jury here June 22, Miss Reed suffered a blow to the back of her head which caused two bilateral fractures to the base of her skull. Initially, it was indicated that she died by asphyxiation her own vomit, but the coroner's jury was told that the aspiration could have been the result of a blood clot at the base of her skull blocking her normal body functions, including breathing.

Tom Mudge, 28, of Edwardsville, called an ambulance to Miss Reed's Edwardsville apartment mid-day May 11 and said she had stopped breathing sometime after 11 a.m. that day, when he took her to the bathroom and she vomited.

Capt. David Bopp of the Edwardsville Police Department said he and ambulance attendants feel she had been dead a longer period of time than Mudge indicated due to the condition of the body and the lack of any body heat.

The fractured skull was discovered during an autopsy by pathologist Dr. Steven P. Nuernberger. Blood and tissue samples were analyzed and showed no signs of alcohol or drugs in Miss Reed's body.

Assistant State's Attorneys Robert Trone and Randy Massey are to handle the grand jury investigation.

Displeasure voiced with trash company

Granite City Council members voted Tuesday night to have the city attorney consult with Allied Disposal, the city's trash removal service, concerning a portion of the contract with the firm.

According to Superintendent of Streets Mac Warfield, the trash company had promised the street department it they would supply three 55-yard dumpsters, to aid the city in the removal of three mobile dumpsters. But Warfield said the company has only been supplying two dumpsters and has said that the company has had difficulties with their trucks because of the size of the larger dumpsters.

Warfield said the company has offered to supply the city with 40-yard dumpsters instead, but that these would not hold a lot of the tree limbs that have been cut down. He said that the street department would have to put in a lot of extra time to cut up the tree limbs if the smaller trash containers were used.

Council members said they feel that any truck difficulties the company has are "their problem" and that Allied should fulfill its contract.

City Attorney John Papa will contact company officials this week.

DCI INVESTIGATION RESULTS IN 2 ARRESTS

The Illinois State Police Department of Criminal Investigation assisted members of the Venice Police Department last week in the apprehending of two Venice residents.

Robert N. Horn, 33, and Dorothy Mae Kearnes, 31, both of 217 Hampden St., Venice, were charged with unlawful delivery of a controlled substance. Both were transferred to the Madison County Jail. Horn's bail has been set at $2,500. Miss Kearnes' bail is set at $1,500.

GC MAN CHARGED WITH DWI

Curtis L. Howland, 29, of 2253 Lee Ave., was stopped by Illinois State Police during the weekend and charged with driving under the influence of alcohol. Howland was taken into custody on West Chain of Rocks Road, just west of Illinois Route 3.

File four charges, serve six warrants

An officer stopped a speeding car on Namook Road at St. Clair Avenue at 12:10 a.m. Tuesday, and the driver, James R. Ridder, 31, of 1415 Niedringhaus Ave., allegedly stated that he did not have a driver's license.

Told he was under arrest, Ridder allegedly attempted to hit the officer in the face, but the blow was partially blocked and Ridder tried to run away, it was alleged.

Ridder was tackled and fell to the ground, along with the officer. Again, he tried to run but was stopped, reports said.

Ridder was charged with battery, resisting a peace officer, driving while his license was suspended and speeding.

He complained of pain in a knee and was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment and then returned to police headquarters. The officer also suffered abrasions to the right knee and right hand during the arrest.

Six active warrants also were on file against Ridder, it was learned.

The Wood River Police Department held warrants alleging driving under the influence of alcohol, battery, aggravated assault and criminal damage property.

Alton Police had active warrants on file alleging battery and defacing property.

Judgment goes against auto body shop zoning

Associate Judge Clayton Williams of East Alton issued an injunction last week that keeping the Kiborts from operating an auto body shop on their property at 2701 Pontoon Road.

The judgment came after eight months of court battles involving the Granite City's denial of zoning to the Kiborts to operate a car repair business.

Shirley Kibort said Tuesday that there would definitely be an appeal made of this ruling. She declined further comment on the matter until she could consult with her attorney.

The Kiborts currently operate both a floral shop and an auto body shop on their property.

In Fourth of July Tourney Errors plague Tri-City as Calhoun wins 5-4

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

ALTON — Occasionally, a team that commits more than its fair share of errors can survive those misuses if its offense is strong enough, or its opposition is also error prone.

That was the case earlier this week when the Tri-City Senior American Legion baseball team played Troy. The Triplets committed their fair share of errors, but Troy did too and the Triplets' offense was able to compensate and breeze to victory.

But Monday evening, in the consolation semifinal match of the Alton-Bethalto American Legion Invitational Baseball Tournament, the Triplets were unable to recover from their errors as the Calhoun County Legion baseball team defeated Tri-City 5-4, eliminating the Triplets from contention.

Calhoun, however, didn't fare any better than Tri-City did in the game that followed, losing to Bethalto, in the consolation finals.

Bethalto, scheduled to play winners' bracket champion Alton on Tuesday, got a reprieve because of wet field conditions. Rescheduled for Wednesday, that game was also postponed. Both teams will square off later in the season to decide the tourney championship.

Tri-City, 2-2 in the tournament finished fourth, behind Calhoun County third, and either Alton or Bethalto first.

"They're a good ball club," said Triplets Coach Dave Coakley of Calhoun County after Monday's ball game. "We made our mistakes and that's why we got behind."

The visiting team, the Triplets began the game on a positive note. With the help of three Calhoun errors, the Triplets dashed to a 2-0 lead after half an inning.

Apparently willing to give Calhoun an even chance at scoring, the Triplets reciprocated the favor, also allowing three first-inning errors.

However, those errors, combined with four Calhoun hits off starter Allen Zentgraf, was more than enough for Calhoun to equal and surpass. Tri-City's first-inning efforts. Calhoun sent eight batters to the plate in the first inning, scoring four times and stranded just one as it took a 4-2 lead.

"We knew they (Tri-City) were going to be tough," said Calhoun Coach Roger Gilman after the game. "But we've got some tough kids too. We've proven this year that we have the ability to battle back and win."

Gilman's crew, a team actually comprised of four small, contributing American Legion Posts, plays their home games in Hardin at Post 632. Other teams making financial contributions to the county-wide team include Brussels, Kampsville and Batchtown. The win, incidentally, improves Calhoun's record to 8-4 on the season.

Despite Tri-City's two-run deficit after the first inning, the Triplets' offense behind, reliever Sam Tate, managed to tie the game in the fourth inning as Keith Coakley and Terry Rujaewitz each scored.

later scored on Rujaewitz's single to center field. Pat Cathey then slapped a double to deep center field which put runners on second and third.

The Triplets picked up their second run of the inning when Randy Burgess sacrificed to deep center field. The sacrifice scored Rujaewitz from third to tie the game at four. Calhoun County broke the 4-4 deadlock in the fourth inning when Mark Baalman rapped a one-out single to left-center field and then, with the help of two Triplets errors, scored.

Following Baalman, Tate struck out lead-off batter Todd Drooge. With two outs, Calhoun's Terry Eberlin bounced a grounder to Cathey's left. Fielding the ball off balance, Cathey's throw to Coakley at first base was awry, but Coakley made the catch and, it appeared, tagged Eberlin for the out.

The infield umpire, however, saw the play differently and called Eberlin safe on the play, saying Eberlin was already on the base when Keith Coakley made the tag.

Coach Coakley's appeal of the play was denied.

As Keith Coakley was attempting to tag Eberlin at first, Baalman dashed from second to third base. An attempt to get Baalman failed as the ball escaped and Baalman dashed home for the go-ahead, and what later turned out to be the winning run, 5-4.

With three innings to attempt a comeback, the Triplets tried, but failed.

They came the closest in the final inning, when Gerry Booker singled to center field and stole second. But, Calhoun's pitcher, Rod Bick, was as he sent down both Art Williams and Keith Coakley on strikeouts to end the game.

In retrospect, Coach Coakley blamed the loss on the Triplets' errors. In all, Tri-City committed six misuses compared to Calhoun's total of three which, again, came in the first inning.

Tate, who pitched six and two-thirds innings, gave up three hits, struck out two and walked one. And after leading the Triplets back to a tie, he gave up the hit which later crossed the plate for the deciding run.

On the other side of the field, Bick pitched all seven innings, gave up four runs, six hits, struck out seven and walked none.

The loss drops Tri-City's record to 11-10 on the season.

On Saturday, Tri-City will travel to Collinsville for an 8 p.m. game. That game was originally scheduled for June 23, but was cancelled due to wet field conditions.

A Sports Special Elks' sports programs: A friend of the amateur athlete

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

The Granite City Elks' Club, for many years, one of the region's most active civic organizations with a large emphasis on fun events like dances but with an almost equal serious side as with their near total devotion to the Crippled Children's Hospital and Medical Attention Program, has another activity that also "does them proud."

That activity is their Youth Activities Program under the direction of Lou Zeffoff.

Under the umbrella of Zeffoff's group is a large athletic program headed up by sports fan, Jim McKechan.

McKechan, whose dad migrated to this country from his native Scotland in the early 1930's, is proud of both his heritage and of the Elks' athletic programs.

"Dad loved soccer and early on, as soon as he arrived in Granite City, he started to organize soccer games for himself and other workers from the old country working at Granite City Steel Company. A lot of people believe that soccer just became popular in recent years when our high schools started winning everything in sight. Not so," says McKechan.

Dad and his friends played on equal teams with clubs in St. Louis back then in the thirties and forties. Bobby Weiss, business agent for the Bricklayers Union, and himself a great soccer player in his youth, tells me that he remembers seeing photos of teams on which Dad played mounted on the walls of clubs in south St. Louis.

The Elks' sports programs, at the present, includes boys and girls in soccer and baseball leagues. In soccer there are teams in the 16-and-under age groups. McKechan's own boys', 12-and-under, has won their league championship the last three years. In fact, the club was undefeated the last two seasons in league play.

The Elks have three baseball teams, ages 14, 12 and 10. Or, juvenile, midgets and bantams.

They play in both the Granite City Park District and Khoury League competition. "Our 10-year-and-under baseball team was the 1983 league champions," proudly explains McKechan.

The Elks' sports teams have a special appeal for most youngsters in that "we sponsor trips and play both indoor and outdoor soccer games," explains McKechan. He added, "My 12-year-and-under soccer team won the recent tourney at an indoor facility to raise money to pay for a kidney transplant for a St. Louis girl. The event raised $1,500 for the girl," he said.

McKechan is proud of the high grade soccer being played by local boys and girls. "Our high school teams have proved without a shadow of a doubt that they are, year-in-and-year-out, the best in the state of Illinois. But, what's not recognized is that our high school teams and groups under that age also have done equally as well."

Just last February, our 12-year-old kickers finished third at a tournament held in Missouri's Dellwood Soccer Club. There were 12 of the best teams in the St. Louis area entered.

Where does the money come from to fund the Elks' sports teams? McKechan answered, "Our major financing comes from the lodge, but 1 and the rest of the coaches raise many times over what the club allots us. For example, our 1983 budget was $6,000 and the club gave us $2,000. This means that we raised our own money by holding barbecues, Las Vegas Nights, dances and car washes, etc."

Incidentally, the individual, baseball and soccer teams touch just a small portion of the overall total of boys and girls who annually participate in the Elks' sports programs.

Drawing by far the largest number of participants and those boys and girls taking part in the Elks' National Free Throw "hoop shoot" contest, locally, the free throw contest drew over 1,200 kids from ages eight through 13. Said McKechan, "I visited each of the 12 grade schools in Madison, Venice and Granite City to tell the kids about the "hoop shoot" contest. Next year, we hope to extend it to schools in Collinsville, Alton and Edwardsville."

The free throw competition is divided in five tourneys: local, district, regional, state and the nationals which is held at the exciting new Market Square Arena in Indianapolis, Ind.

"We had one young man to advance to the nationals, Harry Briggs. He failed to win there but just making it to Indianapolis was a great achievement," said McKechan.

In all the rounds, each shooter is given 25 shots. To advance, one must hit at least 20 to 23.

Other volunteer coaches in the sports programs are: Ruben Mendoza, 16-and-under-girls soccer; Don Repp, eight-years-and-under boys soccer; Jim Nelson, 10-year-and-under baseball. Nelson's boys won the league championship in 1983. Ed Bodman is coach of the 14-and-under (juvenile) boys' baseball team.

"We hope to expand our program next year to include basketball and ice hockey," said McKechan. "Right now we are open to entries in the 12-and-under and 16-and-under groups," he added.

There are several good reasons for the success of the Elks' athletic programs. Ranking high would have to be the first annual Athletic Awards Banquet inaugurated this past spring in which 70 boys and girls, plus right at 200 parents were in attendance at a club sponsored steak dinner. Beautiful medallions were awarded each of the athletes and jackets with the name "Elks" embroidered on the backs are slated for this year.

What about the future, the years down the way? McKechan was asked. "It is our goal to enroll an Elks' team in every age division. When we reach that goal, it is our hope that then we will be able to pass the uniforms on down to the athletes growing up."

McKechan is obviously proud of the Elks' sports programs. He cited the literally hundreds of hours of volunteer work by members in the club's annual Easter Egg Hunt, the Christmas Party and the Teen-Agers of the Month event in which the monthly winners of the boys and girls' awards are given a $50 bond.

To cap each year off, the 24 Teen-Agers of the Month, 12 girls and 12 boys, are honored at a Teen-Ager of the Year banquet with the fathers and mothers of each invited to the steak dinner. At this event the Teen-Age boy and girl is announced.

"The one man we can't forget in our overall youth programs is Stan Brown. He is a tireless worker who gives of his time without question of the faintest suggestion of a gripe," McKechan stated emphatically.

It's men like Brown who makes it all possible.

He added, "Brown's work is of great value to the boys and girls that athletic programs touch directly, but also to the whole Tri-City area as well."

In conclusion, McKechan added, "I must recognize four other members of who have played key roles in our sports program... without them, we couldn't have done it. Three are, or were, exalted rulers, Herschel Jones, when we started, Mike Curran (1983) and our current leader, Bill Russell, Jr. The other, Jess Norman, is an apt representative of the whole membership. It was Jess, a carpenter, who built our trophy case."

More than 220 anglers will compete on Carlyle Lake July 8 for the fourth Illinois Division event of the Red Man Tournament Trail. The field may expand by the time all properly postmarked entries are received.

Of the top 24 Illinois point standings leaders, 23 will compete on Carlyle Lake. Leading the field is Bill Harkins of St. Charles, Mo.

Harkins is first in the point standings with 113 points and 19 lbs. 8 oz. He took the lead following his win at the Lake Shelbyville tournament held June 10. Harkins caught four fish weighing 11 lbs. 12 oz. to win $4,100.

Rounding out the top five competitors in the Illinois Division are Dale Greene of Mt. Vernon, John Wright of Effingham, Floyd Carter of Litchfield, and George Liddle Jr. of Alsip.

Wright was the winner of the opening Illinois tournament held April 1 on Rend Lake.

Another previous winner on the Red Man Tournament Trail is Greg Darnell of Quincy. Darnell won the Kincaid Lake event held May 6.

Among those competing in the tourney are three Granite City men, Keith Sveda, Andrew J. Lesko and Steve Stamps.

The anglers on Carlyle Lake will be vying for about $8,250 (based on an estimated field of 230), with the winner taking about $2,750. Cash awards go to the top 10 percent of the field.

Against Gaslight Paddlers return home and so do winning ways

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Both Paddler Swim Club's swimming and diving teams were victorious Tuesday evening in Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association action at Paddlers.

Competing in their first home meet of the season, Paddlers defeated nearby rival Gaslight of Collinsville. Coach Gayle McCormick's divers began the competition with a 51-21 win over Gaslight and then Coach Celeste Sonnenberg's swimming squad followed suit, downing Gaslight 332-284.

"We dove well tonight, but we're still lacking the depth that we need to have a solid diving team," McCormick said after the diving competition. "We're still lacking older boys, 15-18 years."

BECAUSE of that shortcoming, McCormick said a handful of her divers are competing in an older age group than are necessary. McCormick explained that the shortage of divers wasn't as big a detriment against Gaslight as it may be in two weeks when Paddlers' meets Edwardsville nemesis Montclair.

"I understand that they're really building a strong team. They're out to get us this year, and they have been for some time," McCormick said.

"Our kids have been at the top for so many years it's tough to stay there for the length of time that we have."

Paddlers' have literally ruled the SWISA league for the past four years, capturing four swimming titles and three diving titles.

INDEED, Paddlers' does not have the depth teams that it has had in the past, but, according to McCormick, that's not the only reason for the closer scores.

"The other teams seem to be taking more of an interest in their teams. It seems like everyone is building their teams with ours as a standard to beat."

Sonnenberg, Paddlers' swimming coach who lost her first meet last week in five years at Paddlers, echoed those sentiments recently.

"When we got to Summer Haven, before the swim meet, I overheard a couple of their swimmers say 'I can't wait until we beat Paddlers tonight.' And they did. I could see it coming. The relays were nearly over and we were trailing. You can usually tell how a meet's going by that time," Sonnenberg said.

BUT TUESDAY, was something else.

Last week's loss to Summer Haven may have sparked an new sense of enthusiasm and discipline in the team — as new as the proud new Paddlers' sign which marks the swim club's entrance.

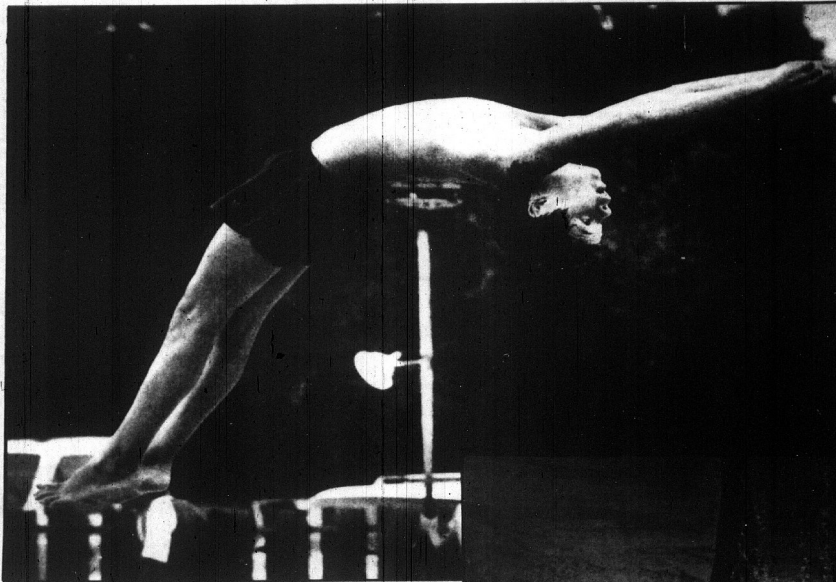

That new enthusiasm was evident to McCormick immediately after the meet, whose team didn't suffer the setback the swimming team did.

"We won at Summer Haven, but even with the win I could see a more serious change in my divers," McCormick said.

"They were at practice on time and even seemed more attentive."

NOW, three meets into the season, Paddlers' will host their second home meet of the season this Tuesday, July 10, as they host Sunset Hills of Edwardsville. Diving competition begins at 5 p.m. and swimming competition begins at 6:30 p.m.

Complete meet results from Tuesday's pairing with Gaslight will appear in Monday's Press-Record.

Thurman, Booker named to IHSBCA All-St. Louis Area Regional Team

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Two members of Granite City High School's 1984 varsity baseball team have been named to the Illinois High School Baseball Coaches' Association All-St. Louis Area Baseball Team.

The Warriors' two honorees are Randy Thurman, at second base, and Gerry Booker, named to the infield. Two of 20 named to the All-St. Louis Area Team, both are seniors and cleanly batted over the 300 mark.

Thurman, who bats and throws right, finished the season with a .380 average which included a double and three triples.

PERHAPS a main contributing factor to Thurman's selection to the squad was his "tough bat." Contributing to his batting average is his ability to connect with the ball 90 percent of the time. Striking out just six times in 59 trips to the plate, Thurman's struck out only about 10 percent of the time.

In addition to his offensive prowess, Thurman was equally proficient on defense. Committing just four errors all season long, Thurman's fielding percentage was .944.

"Randy is a very steady defensive player," said Warrior baseball coach Bob Stegmeyer. "He's got good hands and is very good in turning the double play."

"OFFENSIVELY, he has surprising power. He's not a real big boy, but he was consistent for us and made good contact all year."

Booker, who also bats and throws right, was one of the Warrior mainstays this season.

A .329 hitter, Booker managed two doubles and a home run enroute to the 19 RBI's he collected this past season.

With a .929 fielding percentage, Booker was highly praised by Stegmeyer for his contributions to the 1984 Warrior campaign.

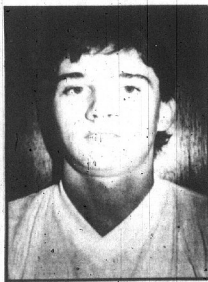

"Booker is a good outfielder, very deserving of this honor," Stegmeyer said. "Right field is a tough place to play, but he handled it quite well."

COMMENTING on having two athletes named to the team, Stegmeyer said he was "glad to get two seniors named to the team. It's quite an achievement."

The IHSBCA divides the state into six regions, and names athletes to each of those regional teams. The St. Louis Area Region is a three-county area comprising of Jersey, Madison and St. Clair counties.

Other regional areas include the Chicago Area, the Northern Area, the Western Area, the Eastern Area and the Southern Area. The largest area by mass is the Eastern Area, consisting of 27 county area. The largest area by population is the Chicago Area, naturally, consisting of three counties — Lake, Cook and DuPage.

GC Council 'rights' liquor ordinance

The Granite City Council approved an amendment to the city's liquor ordinance Tuesday night, that "righted" a situation that has been "wrong" since 1977.

According to city records, the last time the liquor ordinance was amended was Oct. 18, 1977. At that time, the amendment, which specified the maximum number of licenses to be issued, established a limit of 39 Class A licenses (taverns) and eight Class B licenses (package liquor stores).

Since that time, a total of nine Class A licenses and eight Class B licenses have been issued, without the council ever formally amending the ordinance.

City Attorney John Papa conceded that the city ideally should amend the ordinance every time a new license is issued, but has not. He said he knows of no legal ramifications for a failure to make these amendments. "Would you criticize the city for righting a wrong?" he asked.

The new ordinance sets the number of taverns the city can license at 48, which is the current number. The maximum number of package liquor stores now is 16, also the number of businesses currently licensed.

A provision of the ordinance specifies that if any of the current licenses is terminated for any reason, the number of licenses allowed will revert to one less in that category.

The action on the amendment came after a request for a liquor license from National Supermarkets was referred to Mayor Paul Schuler, liquor commissioner. Other liquor license requests which are outstanding include Schmucks Food Store, 7-Eleven and Walgreens.

City accepts sewer material bids

Members of the Granite City Council approved a motion Tuesday night to accept two bids for sewer break repair materials.

The first bid accepted is from IMS of Alton for sewer bedding material. The council accepted the higher of the two bids from IMS because the bid includes delivery of the material to Granite City. The lower bid requires the city to pick up the material from the Alton plant.

Acting City Engineer Ed Schulze said the city does not have large enough trucks to make the hauling of the material practical. The bid accepted is $5 per ton for 1,120 tons, for a total of $5,600.

The second bid accepted is from Metro-East Supply for PVC sewer pipe. The winning bid is for $4,372.30.

All costs incurred from these materials are being paid by Community Development money.

FOR PET'S SAKE

GIVING LIQUID MEDICATION

Here's some helpful advice on how to give liquid medication to your pet dog or cat. First of all, pour the measured dose into a small bottle or vial. For small animals or smaller dosages, an eyedropper will work even better.

Try to keep your pet from getting overly excited. Pet him and talk to him soothingly, and try not to make a big production of it. If possible, have someone else hold the animal's head still and horizontal. Then pull out the corner of your pet's lower lip. This will form a little cup into which you will slowly pour (or squeeze) the liquid a few drops at a time. Patience is the key.

Hold your pet's mouth shut for a moment till he swallows. Continue until the full dose is gone. There is really nothing to it. The liquid seeps between your pet's teeth and is swallowed automatically when it reaches his throat. To make sure of this, you might tilt his head slightly back so the liquid runs in the right direction.

Groothius addresses Republican women

Republican District Chairman Delton Groothius (Precinct 31) shared plans and information of Republican activities in the city and county with the Granite City Republican Women's Club at their fourth Saturday luncheon.

After the speech, Groothius fielded some questions from the floor and then introduced Mr. and Mrs. John Huber of Granite City. Huber is a candidate for the Madison County Board in District 23. This district is comprised of Granite City precincts 9 and 29, Nameoki 11 and 3 and part of Venice Township.

The group learned that Robert

Gaffner intends to continue his candidacy to become a member of Congress in the 21st District.

Also at the meeting, leaflets from the State Board of Elections were distributed. Members were urged to carefully study the pamphlets so that they may become knowledgeable voters.

Eva Meier, a lifetime member of the Republican National Committee and the President's Task Force, distributed Congressmen Guy Vander Jagt's book entitled "What You Have at Stake in the 1984 Election." Mrs. Meier is planning to be in Dallas for the convention and will give the group a report on the event.

The group also announced it is looking for precinct leaders, a place for campaign headquarters and persons to sell "trip tickets." The ticket sales feature a vacation for two as first prize. The drawing will be Sept. 16 at the annual dinner dance of the Madison County Federation of Republican Women.

Genevra Wallis won the attendance prize. Anne Pare and Ruth Lucas were the early birds.

There will be no meeting of the group in July. The next luncheon will be at 11:30 a.m. Aug. 25, at Bill Burns Cafeteria.

State board wants to define schooling, goals

An education reform plan that focuses on student learning—and local school district accountability for that learning—was unanimously approved in late June by the state Board of Education, meeting in Springfield.

The plan, which will require legislative action, calls for replacing statutory requirements for academic subjects and the specific time allotments for those subjects with a Definition of Schooling and Statements of Student Learning Outcomes.

As a result, the state's expectations for education would be more clearly defined in the law in terms of what students learn and how well, rather than how much time they must spend in a particular required course.

The statements of Student Learning Outcomes were created by an 85-member committee of business executives, professional educators, local school officials and parents. The panel was chaired by John Corbally, former president of the University of Illinois.

In a paragraph and a few statements for each of six areas of learning—mathematics, physical and biological sciences, language arts, social sciences, fine arts, and physical development and health—

State School Supt. Gill retiring in '85

State Superintendent of Education Donald G. Gill plans to retire as the state's chief school officer in 1985.

His current contract with the State Board of Education expires July 31, 1985. He informed board members last week that he did not wish to have that contract extended.

Dr. Gill said his plans are not complete, but that he will retire with nearly 36 years of creditable service with the Teachers' Retirement System.

"Don Gill's administrative leadership has helped guide the state Board through many important projects, including one of the nation's most comprehensive school improvement plans," said Walter W. Naeum Jr., chairman of the state Board.

"We will miss his administrative skills, and we will continue forward to seek implementation of the fine programs that he helped us initiate. This board shares his high goals for Illinois education. I am grateful for his skillful assistance in setting objectives to meet those goals."

Dr. Gill said his decision was difficult because of the exciting education agenda which is ahead.

"The coming year marks the culmination of many excellent program efforts by the board," he told board members. "I believe it will be a year of successes for education that will be, in large measure, due to your careful and statesmanlike approach to the major problems on your agenda."

Dr. Gill, 56, assumed the position of state superintendent of education for Illinois, Aug. 1, 1980.

He is the second state superintendent to be appointed by the Illinois State Board of Education. The post previously was elective.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller parents of 2nd child

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne (Phyllis) Miller of Granite City, are the parents of a second child, a boy, born on June 19.

The infant has been named Jason Wayne and he has a 4-year-old sister, Amy Marie.

Grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Herman Miller Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burns, all of Granite City.

Great-grandparents are Mrs. Walter Ardome of Painscourtville, La., Mrs. Ethel Cluser of Evansville, Ill., and Frank Shaver of Granite City.

the outcomes spell out what students should at least know and be able to do as a consequence of their schooling in grades K-12.

At the same time, the plan would also seek to ensure greater accountability from school districts for student learning.

Districts would be required to develop an assessment system—tests and other methods that measure how well students are learning and meeting the state's outcomes, as well as locally developed learning objectives.

That assessment information, which would be reported to the local communities and the State Board of Education, would serve several purposes.

It would help school officials identify areas of the curriculum that need improvement. Additionally, citizens would have the opportunity to see how well schools are serving students and to hold schools accountable for that service.

Collected and analyzed on a statewide basis, the information would also provide an overall picture of the performance of Illinois' education system.

"The recommendations comprise one of the most important ingredients of a reform package being developed by the State Board," State Superintendent of Education Donald Gill commented.

"Once this proposal is enacted, the state's emphasis on education will be clearly focused on student learning."

"These changes will play a significant part in ensuring that high quality educational programs are available to all our students, and we ask the General Assembly to enact this plan during its session next spring."

Summer blood shortage prompts drive in area

Summertime when most people take vacations and children are not attending school is prime reason for an adequate blood supply to be available if needed for those experiencing accidents, illnesses or hospitalization requiring blood transfusions to sustain life.

The Quad-City Church Women United will sponsor a blood drive beginning Monday, July 9, and continue Tuesday and Wednesday, under the leadership of Delores Voelger and Helen Baron, co-chairmen.

Area residents are being urged to visit one of the locations to donate blood.

The bloodmobile will be stationed at St. Margaret Mary Church, 1900 St. Clair Ave., on Monday, July 9, from 2 to 7 p.m. and again on Tuesday, July 10, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The third day, Wednesday, July 11, donors may go to St. Mary's Catholic Church, 10th and Alton avenues in Madison, from 2 to 7 p.m.

"Assuring an adequate supply of blood for the St. Louis metropolitan area (including the Quad-City area) requires the collection of 1,000 units of blood a day. Researching this daily goal is a difficult task, but a necessity to sustain lives in area hospitals," according to a statement issued through the American Red Cross offices in St. Louis.

"At this time, Red Cross is short 4,700 units of blood for the summer months. In order to have a safe summer for all, we must inform the public on the need for blood, and to remind them to donate during the summer," the spokesman explained.

She added, "Red Cross is not making an emergency appeal for blood. This only occurs when blood is not available, and surgeries must be cancelled. The present awareness campaign is intended to avert an emergency appeal for blood. A great deal of blood collections come from working individuals and students, and they usually donate at the job or at school. When summer arrives, vacations begin and school closes, donations decrease by 15 percent."

In an effort to be involved in a community project, members of Bethel 43, Order of Job's Daughters, are presently calling all known donors to remind them of the summer blood drive. They have been granted the use of Red-Max office and telephones for the project.

All blood is processed at the St. Louis Red Cross laboratory and is redistributed back to each hospital for use or in the event of an emergency blood is sent where it is needed for immediate care, the Red Cross representative added.

Competition in long-distance phone service within Illinois

Gov. James R. Thompson has just signed legislation that permits competition in long-distance telephone service within Illinois border. This could lower those telephone rates by 20 percent or more, it has been estimated.

"In March I issued my message to the General Assembly on Utility regulation reform. In it, I stressed the need for altering and updating the laws governing telecommunications regulation. These rules have been in effect since 1921 and no longer reflect the changes in the field or the needs of Illinois consumers," the governor said.

"This legislation recognizes the need or change in a period of major technological advances and gives consumers a better choice of services and significant savings through a competitive market."

Senate Bill 1803 allows telephone companies such as MCI and GTE to offer competitive services from one point in Illinois to another. The bill gives consumers a choice of companies and potentially allows them to save on their long distance bills.

Thompson said it also will reduce confusion as more long distance telephone companies compete in Illinois for telephone traffic between states.

With the opening of intrastate telephone service to competition, consumers will be able to choose one telephone company for both intrastate and interstate service.

Otherwise, consumers could conceivably be forced to have one telephone company for in-state service and another one for interstate service, creating different pricing structures and different billing, the governor added.

FILE FOUR CHARGES AGAINST GC DRIVER

After following a pickup camper east on Granite Avenue, an officer stopped the vehicle near 14th Street and Edwardsville Road last week and charged the driver, David G. Tanner, 28, of 1926 Skeen St., Madison, with driving under the influence of alcohol and reckless driving.

An unloaded shotgun was in the vehicle and Tanner also was charged with unlawful use of a weapon and not having a Firearm Owner's Identification (FOID) card.

Tanner agreed to take a breathalyzer test, but the machine malfunctioned, reports said, and he was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where a blood alcohol test was administered. He was released after posting a $306 cash bond.

BAC, Scott Air Force Base to offer flying lessons

Belleville Area College and Scott Air Force Base have combined their resources in a unique agreement to offer flying lessons on the base.

While offering flying lessons on an Air Force base may seem the natural thing to do, the agreement is the only one of its kind in the country.

THE CLASSES meet on base at the Aero Club and use the club's aircraft and instructors.

Clarence Hall, coordinator of the Aviation Pilot Training Program at BAC, said the college began the program about a year ago in response to requests by military personnel. "It's really for the convenience of the military people at Scott," he said. "The facilities are right there on base for them. So we worked out an agreement with the base."

"The program serves several needs," he continued. "It enables military students to obtain college credit. It entitles them to take advantage of the tuition assistance programs available to them and it entitles them to use their veteran's benefits toward training."

WHILE SOME MILITARY students take the courses for their own enjoyment, others are preparing for careers when their military duty is over. Hall said: "The Air Force teaches strictly military aviation and does not prepare pilots for civilian aviation," he said.

Registration for fall classes at the base is under way. Students may register from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays and from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Fridays in the Registrar's Office at the Belleville campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

Glasses meet for 16 weeks, beginning Saturday, Aug. 25, unless stated otherwise. Tuition is $23 a credit hour. Fees for aircraft and simulators are extra.

CLASSES TO BE offered include: Private Pilot Ground, 9 to 11:45 a.m. and 1 to 3 p.m. Saturdays; Flight Training (private), by arrangement; Simulator (private), by arrangement; Simulator (commercial), by arrangement; Flight Training (commercial I) by arrangement; Flight Training (commercial II), by arrangement; Flight Training (instrument), by arrangement; Simulator (instrument), by arrangement.

BAC scholarship is established

Small's clothing store in downtown Belleville has established a scholarship at Belleville Area College in honor of former Belleville businessman Abe Small.

Jerry Wolfsteld, who recently purchased the store, will make a contribution each year to the BAC Foundation to help a student in the Career Business Program at BAC.

THE SCHOLARSHIP donation, which is one of a series of annual contributions Wolfsteld has pledged to the BAC Foundation, will be available to students this fall.

Abe Small, owner and founder of Small's, died this spring at the age of 77. He had been active in the community.

Although Wolfsteld knew Small only a short time, he was grateful to the well-known store owner for the opportunity to purchase the store.

WOLFSTELD BELIEVES the scholarship is an appropriate way to honor Small, who served on the advisory committee to Career Business Programs at the community college.

The BAC Foundation, established in 1975, raises funds for the college from the private sector for special purposes.

Red Bud Center building underway

Forty people watched as Red Bud Mayor Wilbert Braun turned the first shovel of earth at the future site of Belleville Area College's Red Bud Center, Monday, June 25.

"In my 37 years of city life, this is the happiest moment I've had," Braun said as he broke ground at the 10-acre plot on Fourth Street near St. Clement's Hospital.

BAC PRESIDENT Dr. Bruce R. Wissore spoke to the crowd, which included college officials, Red Bud high school officials, city council members and Red Bud Center investors.

"The effort we have here — a joint venture between the City of Red Bud, private investors from the community, the Red Bud High School Board of Trustees and the college's board — is something unique," Wissore said. "Red Bud has something you can be very proud of. At BAC, we're out to improve the quality of education. You are helping make that possible."

The center is possible because of the support of the community of Red Bud and private investors who have pledged close to $1 million for the project.

WISSORE SAID other colleges in the state are looking to Red Bud as an example of cooperation between all segments of the community. "But none will be able to do it as well as you have," he said.

BAC Board Chairman Avery Schermer complimented the residents of Red Bud for their foresight in making Red Bud Center possible. "It's unique in the times we're living in to find a community that wants something and doesn't expect it to drop into their laps," Schermer said. "You people made this happen."

One example of the community's dedication and enthusiasm for the center is the city's quick work to extend Fourth Street to the site in time for the groundbreaking.

SCHERMER EXPLAINED opening Red Bud Center is part of the college's plan to take services where the people live. Granite City Center opened last fall to serve residents in the northern part of the community college district and Red Bud Center will serve those in the southern portion, he said.

Larry Schmaltzberger will serve as provost for the center. As Associate Dean for General Studies and Community Services, Schmaltzberger has coordinated the activities at night extension centers throughout the college district.

The one-story, brick center will cover 12,000 square feet and have parking for 200 vehicles.

EMPHASIS WILL BE on high-technology fields such as data and word processing, and business courses, including accounting and secretarial science. There will be computer and science laboratories, six classrooms, a library and common areas where students can relax between classes.

When at full capacity, Red Bud Center will serve an estimated 1,500 students. It is scheduled to open in January 1985.

The center will serve residents of Red Bud, Sparta, Chester, Columbia, Coulterville, Ellis Grove, Steelville, Waterloo and the many other communities in Randolph, Monroe and Washington counties.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

People who come to this office considering bankruptcy are often many thousands of dollars in debt. Often they are facing possible repossession of their car or foreclosure on their home. In addition, many individuals in this situation have already been sued and have a garnishment on their wages. A question frequently asked by these debtors is whether they should file bankruptcy.

It has been the experience of this writer that there are certain advantages and certain disadvantages to filing bankruptcy. The most obvious advantage is that the filing of the Chapter 7 bankruptcy immediately requires all creditors to cease contact with the debtor. They no longer can call the debtor, write to him, sue him, or garnish his wages. In addition, any pending mortgage foreclosures or attempts to repossess a motor vehicle are stopped.

Thus the filing of the bankruptcy often provides welcome relief for individuals heavily in debt. Prior to filing, these people frequently have been overwhelmed by the attempts on the part of creditors to collect the debt. The debtor often has been called during all hours of the day and also has experienced the embarrassment of being contacted repeatedly at work. Many people in this situation have also been sued and brought back to court several times. The filing of the bankruptcy stops all this harassment.

The purpose of the Bankruptcy Act is to give debtors a "fresh start" in life. Generally, all the unsecured debts of the person filing will be wiped out in full. In addition, most people who file have enough protections under Illinois law so that they won't lose any of their property to the bankruptcy trustee.

The only potential drawback to filing bankruptcy is that it does appear on a person's credit record. Actually, one would think that people would be a better credit risk after filing since they eliminate all indebtedness and cannot file bankruptcy again for six years. If a person is working, theoretically he should be in better shape from a credit standpoint after filing than before filing. However, many creditors will refuse to extend credit to a person who has filed bankruptcy. Of course, it must be remembered that many people on the verge of bankruptcy already have virtually destroyed their credit rating anyway. Late payments, lawsuits, judgments, and wage garnishments also appear on a credit record, and many debtors have experienced all of this prior to filing bankruptcy.

Noeth retires after career of 31 years

After 31 years with the Granite City school system, data processing director Thomas G. Noeth, 2327 St. Bernard Ave., has retired. His last day with the school system Friday coincided with the close of the fiscal year. Noeth was chosen by school secretaries as their nominee for state administrator of the year during a banquet in April. Education has been a family tradition for Noeth. His brother, Fred Noeth, retired a year ago as principal of the former Logan Elementary School. Another brother, James Noeth, taught fifth grade at Parkview Elementary School through the 1982-83 year.

Noeth's replacement as director of data processing is Monte Kessler. James Jeffries is the new assistant director of data processing.
